WESTCOTT NEWS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. John Luft accompanied their daughter Mrs. Robert Dubois to Calgary last week where Mrs. Dubois underwent an operation at the Holy Cross Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Baudiste were Calgary visitors the latter part of the week.

We are pleased to report that the tiny infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Goettgen is gradually getting stronger with each passing day but is still being cared for in the Didsbury Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Goettgen and the Parks family of Elkton had the pleasure on Saturday last of meeting their new aunt, the former Mrs. Eva Schmaltz of Edmonton, who had just become the bride of their uncle Mr. Fred Parath, who has just recently returned from overseas duty.

We hear that little George Klinek has been receiving medical attention this past week and hope it is nothing very serious.

In spite of the nasty weather last Wednesday the nurses from Rosebud Health Clinic again visited the Westcott school where some of the children are being inoculated, etc. We understand that there is quite a few absentees from school this week with flu.

4 DURING THE WAR Canada rose to a foremost place among the nations of the world. The rapid advances made in the production of food and manufactured articles in shipping, in science, medicine and many other lines of endeavour were very great, when considered in relation to the size of the country. These results were achieved because the entire nation was organized for the purpose of giving the fullest support to the winning of the war. In time of war there is almost nothing which is considered impossible to accomplish in the interests of speeding victory. When difficulties arose in production, transportation, or other vital places, expert advice was obtained and remedies were quickly provided. These methods of dealing with war-time problems, some of which have already appeared in the form of the housing shortage, unemployment and the world food shortage.

undertaken. It is evident that there are opportunities for expansion here in many lines, in agriculture, in mining, in manufacturing and in scientific and cultural endeavour. Canada is possessed of great potentialities, but if they are to be developed to their fullest extent we must have either a much larger population or greatly expanded markets. The present population cannot absorb even the greater part of the products of our farms, factories, mines, forests and fisheries. This is a problem which vitally concerns the future development of this country and which will have a far-reaching effect on such matters as taxation, employment and farm prices.

over 25,000,000 and 27,000,000 acres of land in Canada, which are not being used, but are reasonably accessible and could be used for agriculture. These figures did not include land in the Yukon or the Northwest Territories. Mr. Booth estimated that this land would provide from 128,000 to 168,000 farms, including irrigated units. He pointed out, however, that these areas would be brought under cultivation only if Canada had a larger population and a greatly increased foreign market. These figures show the possibilities for the expansion of agriculture, and the only one of the many potentialities of the country. To deal wisely with these matters are necessary the same type of co-operation and skill which contributed in so great a measure to the winning of the war.

Two In Northern Ireland Helped In Defence Of Convoys

The Governor of Northern Ireland, Vice-Admiral the Earl Granville, has cited some remarkable facts and figures showing the outstanding importance of Belfast and Londonderry as naval bases during the war. "Those two ports," he said, "located on the flank of the immediate exit to the Atlantic from Great Britain, played a most important part in the vital defence of convoys. No fewer than 85,493 ships were escorted on ocean convoys during the war and of these only 649 were lost."

As for Belfast's shipbuilding activities in wartime, the Governor mentions that the shipyard had the most convenient facilities in the port repairs to merchant vessels amounting to nearly five million gross tons were completed. One of many remarkable achievements was the fitting out of the building of the White Star liner Georgic which has recently been carrying troops home from liberated Europe. The Georgic was built in HM S. 1000, a formidable built at Belfast. The gallant wartime record, she took part in the attacks on the Tokyo region by a British task force. Another Belfast ship, the Black Prince, a fleet carrier Georgic. She too has been operating in the Pacific, and appropriately took the surrender of the Japanese forces in New Ireland, before the British and New Britain and the Solomon Islands.

A Hard-Hitting Fleet For Unified Defence Of Western Hemisphere Being Planned

UNIFIED Canadian, British and American naval action as officially indicated was regarded by observers as applying the Three Musketeers principle of "all for one and one for all" to the future strategic defence of the western hemisphere and the Atlantic. This was the famous slogan of the Dumas story of Athens, Aramis and Porthos slaying with Atreman, and with Britain, United States and Canada in the modern international role.

Our Canadian Navy will be trained to work in cooperation with the British or the American Navy, as occasion in Southeast Asia. It will be a potentially hard-hitting modern fleet whose efficiency will be equal to that of any in the world. Senior Canadian Defence Minister Douglas C. Abbott said.

This rounded out still further the hemisphere defence picture and indicated that all three of Canada's armed services are being designed to work in the closest cooperation with Great Britain and the United States. Plans for the future were drawn against the backdrop of the war, when the R.C.A.F. and the R.A.F. worked practically as one force in which the Canadian troops fought under joint Allied command, and in which the Royal Canadian Navy undertook certain jobs against the North Atlantic convoy route, in conjunction with the British Navy and the American fleet.

Canada became the world's fourth naval power with the fall of Germany, and the third with the fall of Japan. With the plans for the peace time fleet, as outlined by Abbott, it became evident that such a fleet was being designed primarily for the quickest adaptation to cooperation with either or both of the British and American navies.

In total manpower the active Canadian Navy will be ten times as strong in this post-war era as it was in the pre-war era, before the war broke out, but there the comparison ends, for the striking power of the post-war navy will be infinitely more than ten times the striking power of the pre-war navy, even taken by itself.

Particular significance has been seen in the emphasis by Canadian defence departments on swift expansion into a wartime strength for all three of the armed services, should an emergency arise, and that the navy will carry a reserve considerably stronger than their active strength.

The British government's white paper, issued on Feb. 22, already had outlined permanent commitments for British collaboration in defending the security of the commonwealth, and specifically were mentioned as safeguarding of communications and the upkeep of essential lines. The white paper stressed the fact that Britain will continue in peace the full partnership of war.

In time with Canadian official announcements the British white paper stressed, as summarized by the United Kingdom information service, is a determination to maintain, in collaboration with the commonwealth, Britain's armed forces strong enough to meet all commitments, imperial and international, while pursuing a research program in which these forces are being supplied with the most up to date equipment available. This modernization of equipment is being emphasized in Canadian pronouncements.

Warlike and recent developments on land and in the air have seen Canada and the United States taking further steps to seal up the "gateway to the Western Hemisphere" in the Canadian Arctic and through the Northwest and Alaska.

At sea, while the announcement of Canada's permanent Navy indicated a force equally equipped to operate in either Atlantic or Pacific Ocean, the emphasis of wartime experience has been a Canadian Navy operating mainly in the Atlantic in conjunction with the British Home Fleet while the American Navy takes care of the Pacific. But the spectre of a possibly defenceless Western Hemisphere, as pictured by many American observers during the 1934-35 season of World War II, when the Germans were threatening Britain, left an impression that has been evident in later wartime and post-war strategy planning.

In the light of Canadian official statements for post-war armed forces and the Navy's collaboration with British and American fleets, it was noted that the British White Paper specified definite commitments, only superficially by "Naval forces will remain in the Mediterranean and into the Eastern waters."

These included the British Government's definite statements that it would: 1. provide forces at the safety point in Germany to insure the surrender terms being carried out; 2. a small contingent forming part of British Commonwealth occupation force in Japan from which Canada is significantly abstaining although invited to join; 3. forces sharing in the occupation of Austria; 4. forces sharing in the occupation of Italian territory; 5. forces for Palestine; 6. forces to assist Greek nation in recovery, which will remain till the elections have taken place and conditions in Greece permit their withdrawal; 7. a force to

Railway Chief Honored By U.S. University

Robert Charles Vaughan, chairman and president of the Canadian National Railway, was awarded an honorary degree as Doctor of Science by Clarkson College, a glowing tribute to his honest and worthwhile contribution to the Canadian far-flung activities for the Canadian National Railway.

In presenting Mr. Vaughan for the degree, Dr. L. K. Silcox, of Waterville, N.Y., vice-president and trustee of Clarkson, paid a glowing tribute to the Canadian National executive, saying: "When called to the executive responsibilities of directing the far-flung activities for the Canadian National Railway with its vast system of railways, airways, steamships, hotels, express and telegraph facilities included, it was the combination of administrative talent and discrimination in appraising each request for further progress that has made Robert Charles Vaughan so effective. He is held by those, like myself, who have been privileged to work with him and know him intimately through the years not only as an able administrator, a thoroughly dependable Christian gentleman."

The photograph shows Dr. L. K. Silcox, president of Clarkson College, presenting the honorary degree to Mr. Vaughan at the ceremony.

Finger Printing Not Used Only In Woven Nylon Great Hole In Dressing Connection With Crime For Criminal Cases.

The Scientific American says one of the plagues of surgery is to change dressings, the plagues sticks to the tissue, and when taken off may tear or rip the wound open again, task and a costly one. Yet, it has now, woven nylon, originally improvised in Pacific army hospitals from nylon window screenings, seen to solve the problem.

Since these events are fast and a little stiff, they come off easily and both surgeons and patients were pleased at the absence of pain or bleeding when dressings were changed. On top of all that the material is cheap, and it is in better shape for skin grafting.

Says The World Must Have A Breathing Spell To Gather Strength And Get Its Bearings

"UNTIL the world has a breathing spell in which to gather its strength and get its bearings it is little to think of creating any genuine laws among nations," United States Senator J. William Fulbright from Arkansas, told members of the Canadian Club of Ottawa at the Chateau. "And yet, until we are able to agree upon rules governing at least the production of atomic bombs there can be little confidence in our security," he said.

Senator Fulbright, one of the youngest United States Senators, first won wide attention by his introduction into the United States Congress of the Fulbright Resolution which called upon the U.S. to give its full cooperation in post-war international efforts to maintain peace.

The speaker said there must be some alleviation of national sovereignty if the world was to be saved from destruction. He said Prime Minister Mackenzie King and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain had given the lead in suggesting this new approach to finding a solution to lasting international agreement.

But it was disappointing that these good suggestions were not taken up by the delegates who met at the League of Nations conference of atomic bomb jet-propelled airplanes. Mr. Stalin's latest five-year plan, and our own warlike on critical issues.

If we follow a policy now similar to that followed after the last war, the result is likely to be the same. In other words, what I really am suggesting is that something different be attempted.

I submit, the sovereignty that must give way to law if anything different is to come out of the UNO. The fundamental principle upon which all successful communities of peoples have been founded is law. Law in the early family and tribe, just as in this nation today, is not only a rule of conduct to which all were subject, and which was enforced by the collective might of the community. Without these rules there would be no community, no security of the person, no peace, no opportunity for progress or decency of any kind.

If it be true that there can be no lasting peace among men without law, then our policy should be clear, declared the senator. Suggesting "honesty and integrity" in the creation of rules of conduct for the people of the world, the United States senator said the logical subject matter for its beginning was armaments, including the atomic bomb, and the machinery to begin with may be created by relatively simple amendments to the charter of the United Nations. The modification of the veto provisions and the delegation of certain rule-making powers to the UNO would go far toward the accomplishment of our purpose.

"I quite agree, with which I am sure is in the names of many of you, that if all we do well to talk of rules of conduct, but under the present unsettled conditions in the world it is not very practicable as a basis for immediate accomplishment. That view has new emphasis from your own recent experience as the spy master. My point is that granted we are unable to obtain law at the moment, I think it is highly important nevertheless, that we recognize that law is our ultimate goal," Ottawa Citizen.

Takes Some Time. Getting Taxi In Paris Is Quite A Complicated Job. Here is how you go about getting a taxi in Paris today.

You go to the precinct police station, tell the desk sergeant that you want a taxi and show credentials proving that you are entitled to one. If you pass that test, the sergeant calls for a cab, which comes to the police station from wherever it is available. You have to pay for the driver's run to get you on top of your trip. Your application for the rate is made in triplicate: one copy for the precinct police, one for the driver, and one for police headquarters.

That wait operation usually requires a minimum of an hour during which time, of course, you could have walked to your destination.

HAS WIDE CHOICE. The Parliamentary committee which was appointed at the last session to study and recommend a distinctive Canadian flag will be able to bring in a report during this session. The committee has had before it a number of suggestions and has looked at hundreds of proposed flags.

RESTORED TO DUTY. The court-martial sentence of Capt. Charles B. McKay III, has been remitted in its entirety and he has been restored to duty. McKay was the captain of the cruiser Indianapolis, which was sunk in the Pacific with a loss of 880 officers and men.

Looks Like Waste

Airplanes Not Wanted By United States Dipped Into Sea.

When people read the other day that the Royal Navy proposed to dump no fewer than 770 aircraft into the sea off Australia after having removed certain fittings, the thought must have occurred to them that this represented senseless waste, especially in view of the fact that a large number of these machines were brand new and scarcely flown.

The reason for this extraordinary decision has now been made public. The aircraft in question were, it appears, made available by the United States under lend-lease. It is specified that lend-lease war materials must be either returned to the United States or rendered unserviceable. As the United States do not want these 770 machines returned to them and do not care what happens to them, they are to be dumped into the sea. Only the British fittings are to be retained and sold as war assets.

When the world some years hence possibly runs short of scrap metal which may be urgently required for essential uses, perhaps the seaboard may be divided to recover these 720 aircraft, the destruction of which in the manner mentioned is hard to understand even when all the waste-fuelness accompanying war is realized. THE RED CROSS MUST CARRY ON

The world is in pain, and the Red Cross has been one of the great sources of aid to victims of calamity. In peace as in war. If the crippled and the sick are to be helped, disasters met effectively, plague spots wiped out, the Red Cross must carry on.

FUNDS ARE NEEDED—To do the work that is waiting in Alberta the Red Cross needs $300,000. With the campaign now on it is asking every citizen of Alberta who wants to be a good neighbor to those less fortunate, to join the Red Cross.

Give freely in a cause that is truly international, that knows no boundaries of class or creed or color—the great cause of mercy.

Red Cross work must begin at home. The terrific demands of war have overshadowed the good work it has been steadily carrying on right here at home, but remember there are many casualties of peace too. There are little crippled children for whom the Red Cross Crippled Children's Hospital provides special skill and tender care, helping restore normal strength and health to their broken bodies, and faith and courage to their daunted spirits.

Blood Banks are needed in peace as well as in war.

At the outposts of civilization and in sparsely settled districts in Canada that cannot support a doctor, the Red Cross maintains nurses and nursing stations equipped to give emergency medical aid. These services, together with home nursing and practice and training in First Aid in rural areas, bring help and comfort to rural citizens in outlying districts.

Remember, it is the multitude of small subscriptions that give power to the Red Cross. It is YOUR responsibility and MINE, to see that this Red Cross campaign in the Didsbury district is a success.

INDEPENDENCE OF WEEKLY PAPER

Simeon Strunsky, one of the leading editorial writers of the New York "Times," maintains that a single copy of a weekly newspaper slowly absorbed may succeed in driving home a point more effectively than seven daily newspapers repeating the same point every day for a week. He says: "With us, the small town and country newspaper, which is often a weekly journal, is more influential than the daily press. A weekly newspaper which is read and absorbed in the seclusion and comparative leisure of a small town or a farm is likely to exercise a greater pull on its reader than the daily paper crammed with a bewildering array of reading matter and consumed amid the distractions of urban life."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Re: Farmers' Income Tax Editor Pioneer:

On behalf of the farmers I wish to point out to your readers some of the inconsistencies and injustices of the Farmers Income Tax set-up. A Farmer operates his farm for say four years, and perhaps because of weather conditions, half the year he goes in the red about $1,000 a year, but in the fifth year he happens to make a profit of $1000. If single and no dependents he pays to the government $793 or about 70%. If married, no dependents, he pays $520 or over 50%. Is that fair? A man buys a farm for $5000, $1000 down payment in four annual installments with interest. If he, by good luck, good management, and lots of hard work, manages to meet his obligations he is allowed to deduct the interest paid, but if the principal, if his income is above the minimum allowed, if he is married, he pays income tax at the rate of $520 per $1,000, so that instead of his farm costing him $5,000 it is actually costing him $7080 plus interest. Interesting, isn't it?

If a farmer does his own work or exchanges work with his neighbor, he gets no deductions, but if he hires the work done he gets the privilege of deducting 50c on every dollar paid out in wages and board. Fair, isn't it?

All the Farmers I have interviewed state emphatically that they will cut down on milking cows and stopping hogs, if they are compelled to pay half their profits therefrom.

They also state that they don't object so much to paying their income tax, if they knew their money was being spent wisely, but when they hear and read such items as the government furnishing a special train for the incoming Governor General at a cost of possibly at least $1,000 for him to travel from Halifax to Ottawa and of the probably $100,000 it costs annually to support an office, and knowing that if it was abolished completely it would not make an iota of difference to the economy of the country, and read of the members of parliament voting themselves $2000 tax free increase in salary, and the granting of thousands of dollars on retirement of government big shots, while begrudging a measly $30 a month for old age pensioners who possibly after spending their years in hard work, and who perhaps through no fault of their own, are in dire need, and on top of that appoint inspectors to see that they don't spend their pittance for high priced cars, electric refrigerators, etc., so that the possible cost of administration of old age pensions is probably one half the pensions. Then when they see inspectors of all kinds everywhere on the road for all manner of projects getting big salaries and large expense account, and drive fine cars, and many of whom are totally unfitted for the job, they wonder if we wouldn't be better off if they weren't put to milking cows and stopping hogs, and the thousand and one different bureaus set up, with many incompetent at their head, who instead of serving the public, act as petty dictators. These are some of the things that make the farmer sear red.

About two years ago at the expense of the taxpayer the government put a bonus of 10 cents on oats, and 15 cents on barley, so that it was as profitable to sell the grain as it was to feed hogs, now when the farmer has largely gone out of hog raising, two years too late, they put $2 per hog extra, but to fool the farmer takes back $1.00 of it in his taxes, the ultimate result of these measures along with others is that the farmers won't be providing better and better equipment for their use let alone supplying the overseas market.

Wake up farmers, do something about it before the car goes in the ditch it is now heading for.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the space in your paper granted me.

PAPERS GO ESTRAY

Occasionally we have subscribers complaining that they have not received their "Pioneer" in the mails, and those who may have occasion to voice a like complaint, we ask that they call or phone this office and we will gladly give them an extra copy—if we have it. To box holders who get another subscriber's paper along with their own we ask them to hand this paper in at the wicket at the post office for delivery to the addressee. In a post office like Didsbury where so much mail is handled some mistakes are very apt to happen in sorting mail, the same as others make mistakes in their daily tasks, and should an error occur it is only fair that we refrain from too much criticism of postal officials.

MOST OF US DON'T KNOW

Hardly anyone—not even the publisher—knows how important a newspaper is to a community.

The smaller the town, the more important the newspaper is in its economic life. Its news, editorials and feature stories focus the interest of surrounding territory on the place in which the paper is published.

This force and the force of advertisements by local merchants build an ever-widening trade area. This means more business, more money for schools, homes and churches—a bigger and better town.

A town with a newspaper is a town with a future. The better the paper, the brighter the future.

It deserves the support of every business man in that town.

We are trying to make this paper worthy of our town. Your help and suggestions are appreciated.

LOSSES IN YOUNG PIGS

The Dominion Department of Agriculture has stated that the losses of young pigs in Canada are too high. With anxiety that this serious matter should be corrected, the Department has issued a special pamphlet, No. 34 entitled, "Prevention of Common Losses in Young Pigs", a copy of which is available to any farmer who writes to the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa and applies for same. Every hog marketed at the proper weight and finished to provide top grade Wiltshire sides will bring approximately $25.00 to the farmer, it is stated. It will thus be seen that it pays to save young pigs.

NOTES FROM THE EAST

The Jutland school will sponsor a bazaar and musical evening on Friday, April 12th. The proceeds from the sale of the boys' and girls' work will go towards helping the Junior Red Cross Children's Hospital. This is surely a worthy enterprise to support and all donations are appreciated. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Woods of Calgary were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Shells during the past week. Mr. Woods was a former employee of Mr. Shells, and brought back a bonny Scotch Lashie for his wife. Congratulations, Earl and Mrs. Woods.

There will be a dance at the Lone Pine Hall on April 17th. This is to be the last dance before spring work begins. Water Valley Orchestra will supply the music.

The next W.I. meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Pete Schumaker on April 10th. Note this date is the second Wednesday instead of Thursday. And ladies, remember the auction sale.

Mr. Hugh McLean was a dinner guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Coates Sunday last.

The boys' and girls' spent the week end with the Jutland school teacher, Mrs. Krause and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kohut were visiting their children and friends in Didsbury and district.

Mr. Kohut says one familiar face in Didsbury looks better than one hundred unfamiliar faces in Calgary.

Miss Mary Koss of Ponoka is working for her sister, Mrs. Chas. Kohut. Mary is feeling much improved since her tonsil operation, which turned out to be of a serious nature.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Barnes in the Jutland district wish them happiness and success in their new home and occupation. Mr. Ellis Barnes took a very active part in the Didsbury High School sports in his day. He won many trophies for the school and himself, in the running broad jump, the hop, step and jump, and high pole vaulting. Ellis was an expert on skates, too. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes and family will return to the States, leaving behind many friends and fond memories.

$25,000.00 IN PRIZES FOR MALTING BARLEY

(H.G.L. Strange)

The Dominion Brewers' Association, in conjunction with the Canadian malting industry, have offered $25,000.00 in prizes for malting barley. The field has to be 25 acres or more. The growing crop has to be inspected for trueness-to-variety, and the threshed and cleaned grain either in bulk for sale to the maltster, or in sacks for sale as seed, has also to be inspected and tested.

Certain acres considered not suitable for the production of malting barley are debared from the contest. Farmers who wish to sow 25 acres or more to malting barley, in order to enter this competition, should write to the Department of Agriculture of their Provincial Government, either at Winnipeg, Regina or Edmonton, to find out whether their district is in the contest area and for detailed particulars of the contest. The seed sown must be of an acceptable malting variety, O.A.C. 21, because it is at present the best malting barley, certainly would stand the best chance. Naturally the seed should, if possible, be sown on clean summer-fallow.

If any farmer who enters a field would care to write to me I should be glad to advise him how to manage and prepare a crop for field inspection.

HARMATTAN NEWS NOTES

(Too late for last week)
Miss Dorothy Nelson spent last week end at home and returned to her job Monday.

We are sorry to hear of Norman Johnson's minor accident and hope he is fully recovered by now.
The sincerest sympathy of the district goes to Mr. and Mrs. James Frost and family, formerly of Har-mattan and now of Canal Flats B. C., at the loss of Mrs. Frost's mother, Mrs. Anderson of James River who passed away Saturday morning, March 29. Mrs. Frost returned to attend the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Crombie and daughter
May were honored guests at a farewell party held for them in the Harmattan hall. May, a bride-to-be, was the recipient of many lovely and useful gifts. After an enjoyable evening Mr. and Mrs.
Crombie and May thanked their friends, and gave them an invitation to visit them in their new home in Calgary.

A dance will be held in the Har-mattan hall on Friday, April 5th.
Let's hope the hopes are good for it!

The neighbors and friends of Mr.
and Mrs. Ellis Barnes and family held a surprise farewell party on Thursday evening at their home.
The evening was spent in playing whist with the prizes going to Miss Tonia and Mr. Charles Kohut, and consolation prizes to Mrs. J. Bruce and Mr. J. Worrall. After lunch was served Mr. John Bruce, on behalf of their many friends, presented Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Barnes with an electric iron and hot plate, and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Barnes with an electric toaster.

We all wish them luck and happiness in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kohut were Calgary visitors for a few days last week.
Mrs. Morrison returned to Calgary Friday after spending two weeks with her daughter, Mrs.
Dawson, at the Neapolis store.
We hear that Mrs. James Worrall was the lucky winner in the Blue Ribbon telequiz Friday night. Congratulations, Mrs. Worrall.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Tighe were Calgary visitors for two days last week.

Rex Dawson was home over the week end.

BURNSIDE NEWS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clark went to Calgary last week to be with their nephew (Jim Mackay) who was there to welcome his bride who was arriving from the Old Country.
While there they took in the new picture "The Bells of St. Mary" which they thoroughly enjoyed and recommended it highly.

We are sorry to hear that Sam
McAllister who has not enjoyed good health for a long period, has again had to receive further treatment.

Congratulations to Mrs. Jimmy Worrall in winning the Blue Ribbon quiz prize on Friday night's radio program. True, it wasn't an Oscar or Treasure Trail, but ten bucks isn't to be sneezed at.

Owing to the stormy weather and bad roads the dance at the Lone Pine Hall on Friday night did not register its usual large attendance but still a fair sized crowd was there and had an enjoyable time.

Judging by the numerous sales taking place in this neck of the woods our community seems to be changing. It is a question of whether the old timers have made their
"pile" or are getting out while the
"getting" is good.

A few weeks ago I suggested that spring seemed to be here. My mistake, as everybody knows by the last storm. Anyhow, the geese and ducks are honking their way north every day now, the gophers are out, and so is the blamed "phone" (as usual). So spring must be here.
Ivor Weber has had his truck completely overhauled and is just waiting for the ban to be lifted to
"strut his stuff".

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

The United Kingdom will spend $25,000,000 ($11,250,000) in its next active in 1940 against a token $100 ($145) in 1945.

The United States war department announced an intention to make a ruler use of Negro manpower both in the peacetime region and in the event of a future war.

Lord Nuffield, British industrialist, who was recently in Capetown on his way to Australia, said Britain will soon be able to supply the dominions with a steady flow of goods.

In all of these and other, a letter at a Glasgow auction bought a 10-stone diamond necklace for $5,000. He was buying for a Glasgow man who wanted to remain anonymous.

Recent foreign economic administration surveys indicate that millions of Europeans are living far below the minimum of 2,000 calories a day.

Bertram C. Webster, 87, for many years associated with the Dominion Meteorological Bureau, died at his Toronto home. He joined the meteorological staff under Sir Frederick Sturges.

The British taxpayer can expect little relief from Hugh Dalton, chancellor of the exchequer, in his April budget. Civil and defense estimates indicated 1940-41 government outlay will be about $1,000,000,000.

Bermuda girls, white or colored, may apply for training in England for nursing. Details of the scheme are announced in the colony for a training period of three years or more and applications are invited.

Col. Arthur Weigh, minister without portfolio in the Ontario Government and minister-designate of the new Ontario United States Department, said that 20,000,000 United States residents are expected to visit Canada this year.

Weight In Diamonds

Aga Khan Principal Figure In Colorful Ceremony At Bombay

In a setting of fabulous Oriental splendor, the Aga Khan seated himself on a specially constructed stage before 60,000 of his followers and watched solemnly while his weight was matched, pound for pound, in diamonds. He weighed 243½ pounds.

With legendary paucity of industrial diamonds and handful of glittering gem stones were deposited upon the scales until there were 243½ pounds of diamonds, the weight of the spiritual leader of the Ismaili Moslems. From his gold-encrusted chair on the scales the Aga Khan bestowed benign salutations and blessings.

Biggest diamond of the lot was a sparkling 32 carat pear-shaped gem which the owner valued at $200,000. The diamonds will be bought mostly by Princes and Rajahs and the Aga Khan receives $2,200,000 to be used for Ismaili welfare and for benevolences among the poor.

The ceremony, honoring his 60th year as head of the sect, was financed by followers.

Followers and 10 years ago the Aga Khan himself had been weighed in gold, but his followers averred this was the first time anyone had been weighed in diamonds.

The ceremony climaxed a week of celebration of the ruler's leadership but there was a deeper significance. It was the greatest moment in his family history since his grandfather, more than 100 years ago, was driven from Persia (Iran) after a quarrel with the Shah for whom he had been a favorite warrior leader. India has been Ismaili headquarters since that quarrel.

The Iranian consul and an Ismaili delegation from Iran were present at the ceremony and joined the crowd in prayer for the Aga Khan, chanting "Allah ho akbar"—"Allah is great."

WILLING TO TAKE CHANCE

The smiling, confident young man entered a New York bank. He stepped up to the manager's desk.

"Good day, sir," he announced. "Has your bank any need of a highly intelligent, college-trained man?"

The manager poised a pencil over a form. "Your name?"

"Graduated Lineman," "Experience?"

"Just out of college."

"I see," said the manager. "And what kind of a position are you seeking?"

"Well," mused the young man. "I want something in the executive line. A vice-presidency, for example."

The manager put down his pencil. "I'm really very sorry," he said, "but I can't do that. We already have 12 vice-presidents."

The young man waited a hand. "Oh, that's all right," he stated, happily. "I'm not superstitious!"

GARDEN NOTES

Main Vegetable Groups

Vegetables divide themselves into three main planting groups. In the first are the hardy things, those one plants just as soon as the soil can be prepared regardless of the weather then about. These will stand bits of frost and in fact for best results they must make their first growth while the weather is still cool and wet.

In this class are peas, the first, onions, carrots and beets, radish, spinach and lettuce. These can be planted just as soon as the soil has warmed up nicely and is no longer muddy. Experienced gardeners make a practice of sowing beets, radish, spinach, etc., at least three times, about two weeks apart.

Then there are the semi-hardy things like potatoes, the first corn, beans and cabbage. These will stand cold weather but very little frost. At the end of the line are very tender plants that can stand no frost at all such as melons, cucumbers, tomatoes, pumpkins.

Now Grass Early

Grass makes its best growth in the cool, moist weather of spring and fall, hence gardeners advise doing lawn work just as soon as possible. This means as soon as one can get the lawn mowed and the grass cut. Many people have been doing this for many years.

There is no limit to the number of people this Dominion can have if Great Britain can have a population of between 40,000,000 and 50,000,000, surely this country can support at least as many.

Growth may be slow, because there will not be the floods of immigration there were early in this century. Yet there are thousands of people anxious to come to Canada, believing this Dominion offers better opportunities than any other country.

People in Europe are living in constant dread of a new war, believing one will come within the next few years. They think that Canada offers a homeland where their children can be brought up without fear of war, and that the countryside is so safe.

This country is great, will be greater.

Building Up The Soil

Practically everyone knows that a rich, deep soil is the key to a cultivated garden. But not so well known among beginners especially is the fact that even the toughest clay and the most barren sand can, with a little skill and care, be made into fine gardens.

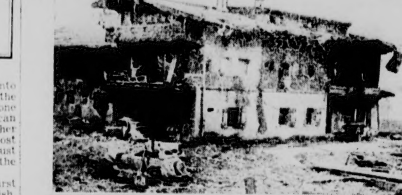

The secret in both cases is cultivation, plus the incorporation of rotted vegetable matter. One of the best treatments, of course, is plenty of barnyard manure, but this is not always available and especially so in urban locations. Good substitutes are vegetable refuse like tops of beets, carrots, pea pods, lawn clippings, etc., or specially worn green outer, rye or clover cut or plowed under.

Super-Heat Material

Evolved By Britain's Wool Industry After Years Of Research

Britain has produced a blanket weighing less to the square yard than any other in the world. Shrink proof, moth proof and rot proof, it weighs only thirty-three ounces for a full size. It looks like a quilt, has pure fibres stuff with a Fortran silk fabric cover, and traps millions of air pockets in the fibres, giving the maximum warmth with the minimum weight. Dressing gown, bed jackets, cut-covers—all can be stuffed with the super-heat material, which was evolved after years of research by Britain's wool industry. Production of the new blanket at present is intended for export.

One machine tabulating 400 names a minute and running 40 hours a week would require two years and eight months to count all the people in the United States.

HITLER'S CHALET WILL BE SERVICEMEN'S HOME—Berchtesgaden is one of the cities and towns selected in Germany and Austria where thousands of American families will live when the occupation soldiers' wives and children start arriving. Some of the families will be able to set up housekeeping in Berchtesgaden beneath Adolf Hitler's shattered, high-perched dwelling. Photo shows what was Hitler's chalet at Berchtesgaden.

Will Be Greater Nothing Wasted

Canada Can Grow But Process Will Take Some Time

W. L. Clark, in the Windsor Star, says: Anyone can take pencil and paper and declare that Canada can never have any more than 20,000,000 people. It is easy to sell Canada short. Many people have been doing this for many years.

There is no limit to the number of people this Dominion can have if Great Britain can have a population of between 40,000,000 and 50,000,000, surely this country can support at least as many.

Growth may be slow, because there will not be the floods of immigration there were early in this century. Yet there are thousands of people anxious to come to Canada, believing this Dominion offers better opportunities than any other country.

Nelson Column In Trafalgar Square Helped Londoners Through Blitz

The periodical examination has again taken place of the Nelson Column in London's Trafalgar Square. W. Larkins, a steeplejack, made the perilous ascent of 145 feet. Having reached the summit of the monument, he went on to examine the colossal figure of the Great Admiral. When he had descended again to the square, it was to report that all was sound and solid.

Surely the survival of the Nelson Column is one of the most astonishing features of London's long ordeal by bombing. For the column stands at the centre of one of the most important squares in the crowded Westminster district, surrounded by the historic monuments and the government offices which were the favored targets of the enemy. It might have been thought, indeed, that the authorities would have taken the column down, not only for its own protection, but to avoid wide damage which would have resulted had it toppled in any direction.

But the Nelson Column was left standing, and it stood to witness all the sudden crash and ruin. The worst night effects of wild fires and sweeping searchlights. Indeed, it so happened in 1941, with the blitz recently past, and the V-bombing soon to come, that the column marked the one hundredth anniversary of its erection.

No doubt the figure of the Great Admiral, standing with composed resolution on its singularly exalted and exposed position, was not without its influence in maintaining the morale of the city. And no doubt if the historic figure had come to lie under fire at the battle of Copenhagen, it is worth noting, and this day may be the last to any of us at a moment. But mark you! I would not be elsewhere for thousands."

ISLAND IS GROWING

Yokosuka, the world's newest "island," 200 miles south of Tokyo, has broken up into two steaming volcanic masses. Rising to a height of 70 feet and growing larger, the twin humps almost identical in size and shape and are separated by a 50-foot channel of boiling, swirling water. White steam rising nearly 200 feet constantly puffed out from the fissures around the brown base and sides of the active mass.

MAKING THEIR WORK

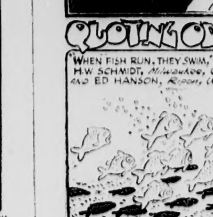

The Wall Street Journal tells this story. For more than an hour, the candidate for the Legislature had diligently saved wood in his quest for the rural young widow's vote. Now she came from the house, snuffing her approval, as he snipped her hair with a pair of scissors.

"I declare," she said, "I don't know who to vote for: you or Mr. Billings. Why, right now, he's in the kitchen chopping."

LETTER REVEALS YOUNG B.C. BOY RAW MILK VICTIM

Further proof that compulsory pasteurization of milk in Canada is a necessity is given in a letter written to the Vancouver Daily Province by a three-year-old boy who is now in a children's hospital with a tubercular spine.

Additional comment is unnecessary—the letter speaks for itself.

"My little son, B. is a patient in the Crippled Children's Hospital. He is there because his milk was not pasteurized.

"In this small interior town where our home is, there is no dairy that sells pasteurized milk, and I thought that, because all cows are supposed, by law, to be T.B. tested, that much was a sufficient precaution. After all, child was out of babyhood. But my son has T.B. of the spine, caused by a faulty milk supply.

"If all parents would work together for a law enforcing pasteurization of all milk, there will be many of your children who will not have to face the terrible handicap that mine must. Several major operations, months of suffering, and probably years of hospitalization is a dreadful thing for any 3-year-old to face.

"Remember the truth of the wise old adage—Prevention is better than cure." Demand that all milk must be pasteurized."

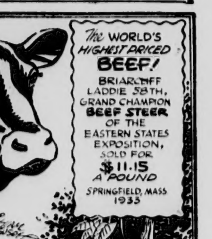

The tragedy which struck at the happiness of this British Columbia home can strike at any Canadian family which uses raw milk. To be completely safe, milk must come from certified animals, it must be handled cleanly, and it must be pasteurized.

In its campaign to obtain compulsory pasteurization of milk throughout the Dominion, the Health League of Canada repeatedly has stated that pasteurization does no harm to the nutritive value of milk—it only eliminates disease-bearing germs. There is no sound argument against pasteurization.

Canadians do not have to drink disease-carrying, unpasteurized milk. If supplies of the commercially pasteurized product are not available in their district, they can do their own pasteurizing. The Health League of Canada, 111 Avenue Road, Toronto 5, Ontario, can supply details of easy home methods.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

THREE RED ROSES

By EVA-LIS WTORIO

Copyright Wheeler Newspaper Syndicate

SARA swung her chair so that her back was to the noisy city room. She tried to concentrate on the geometric pattern of the houses and roof-tops, edging off a rectangular square of sky. Then she attempted to count the peeling telephones behind her, sharp daggers of sound, piercing through the din of the typewriters. But the voice of Jimmy the office boy would not be still. Chatterily it spoke:

"Here it is, ten thirty sharp. He still loves you."

"Leave it on the desk," Sara said in her husky, small voice, keeping her back turned. A grey floral box, with a purple paper inside, containing three red roses in crinkly, thin green paper—that's all it is, she thought. But that isn't all it is, she thought bitterly. It's much more than that. It's disaster and then it's attainment. It's heaven and anguish and pathetic all at the same time. It was a door into a way of life I never knew before, she thought, and now it's closing. It's my fault. It's closing with a bang. It's my own fault, she thought.

Do You, Too, Suffer MONTHLY FEMALE PAIN

Then try this effective medicine!

Lydell E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound DOES MORE than relieve monthly pain due to functional female disorders. It also relieves accompanying weakness, nervous, bitter feelings of such nature. Pinkham's Compound is one of the best known and most effective medicines of its kind!

The grey-haired young man leaned forward in his chair and he said gently: "What did you do, Miss Sunde? And why this offering of roses?"

"That's what I did, Mr. Stuart," Sara said huskily. "I sent myself those roses. That's what made all the difference."

Still, even John Stuart spoke, "But why tell me about it?"

Sara had got hold of herself and she stood very still and her voice was low and low. "I sent you a lot of money to send yourself three red roses for forty days. I'm in debt. I came to borrow, against my pay, from you." She swallowed suddenly again, and then she said quickly: "You can fire me after I've paid it off."

John Stuart's face was suspiciously expressive as he reached for a vetcher pad and wrote on it. "Here," he said, "Good morning."

Sara swung her chair so that her back was to the noisy city room. She tried to concentrate on the geometric pattern of the houses and roof-tops, edging off a rectangular square of the sky, daily grey this morning, grey as a florist's box. She tried not to think of it but she knew that from today on her ego would be in a state of revolt.

She would not know how to go about trying to make people—and herself—understand she was just the same as when the three red roses had been arriving.

Behind her, Jimmy's voice came through the din of typewriters. "Here it is, ten thirty sharp. He still loves you."

She whirled around with a quick kick and snatched the box from him. Then, slowly, she opened it—the purple paper ribbon, the lid, the green crinkly paper, the three—hot roses.

It was a gardenia. A huge white gardenia with sultry fragrance rising from its thick lips. There was a white card under the smooth green leaf. Through the printed "John Stuart" was a thick dash and below it a short sentence:

"Would you care to be slandered at dinner tonight?"

HELPED WIN WAR

Most Important Scientific Invention Was Work Of English Professor

The story of the invention of the cavity magnetron—the most important scientific invention of the war—was told in London for the first time recently. It is the cavity magnetron which was a great extent instrumental in winning the war before the atom bomb was used. It is a tiny instrument about the size of an ink bottle in which electrons are whirled around, producing a series of vibrations and hence waves, somewhat on the analogy of a fire. With it the inventor, an English Professor, J. T. Randall, was able in 1940 to produce short radio waves with an intensity one thousand times greater than had ever been available. Introduction of the magnetron led to a revolution as great as the invention of radar itself. It had an essential part in winning the Battle of the Atlantic, in the bombing of the German war machine and a score of other major Allied victories.

NEW BRITISH BLANKET LIGHTEST IN THE WORLD

Britain has produced a blanket weighing less to the square yard than any other in the world. Shrink proof, moth proof and rot proof, it weighs only thirty-three ounces — for a full size. It looks like a quilt, has pure fleece stuffing with a Portosan silk fabric cover, and traps millions of air pockets in the fleece, giving the maximum warmth with the minimum weight. Dressing gowns, bed jackets, covers, all can be stuffed with the super-heat material, which was evolved after years of research by Britain's wool industry. Production of the new blanket at present is intended for export.
